

The world would be a better place if people have more respect in their daily lives.

Valuing others, valuing their positions and valuing themselves, allows everyone to coexist in harmony.

- Respect your position
- Respect your associates, partners, customers
- Have a better life

Taknology, as a company, must respect our position in relation with our business partners:

- For Vendors, develop and provide access to the market and our customers as efficiently as possible.
- For resellers, provide sales support and business opportunities and act as a bridge to the vendors with logistic, credit and service support.

By keeping with our values and philosophy, Taknology can be the Best Digital Imaging Distributor, catering to the diverse independent electronics community in Canada, for the 21st Century.